

Terms and conditions for digital products

General

Every effort has been made to ensure that the Guide file is compatible with computer systems in common use. However, we do not make any representation or give any warranty or undertaking that the functions of our digital resources meet your requirements or that the digital file is compatible with any computer system. Under no circumstances shall we be liable for any damages whatsoever arising out of the installation of such products.

The content of each Guide has been selected in good faith but there may be some errors, due in part to the nature of scientific research. Furthermore, some the links in the documents to the different websites may expire over time. The author will not be liable for any of the above situations.

We will have no liability to you for any delay or failure to deliver digital services you have ordered or for any damage or defect to such services or goods that is caused by any event or circumstance beyond our reasonable control.

Your order

Your order is placed, and you are committed to pay for it, when you press the 'Buy Now' button. We shall provide the Guide in pdf format as soon as possible by email but we do not guarantee immediate response.

You may not cancel an order once payment has been confirmed.
